Foot Health

Women's High Performance Zoom Runners (by Aetrex)

(HealthNewsDigest.com) - Aetrex has taken its 60-year history in technology and knowledge of the human foot and applied it to a new line of footwear including athletic shoes. Style and design are on par with anything else on the market. What sets them apart is that several of the independent retailers where Aetrex is sold also have machines the company owns called an iStep, which measure everything from shoe size to arch type and pressure points free of charge.
