Jessica Simpson And Other Pregnant Celebs Ditching Their Heels For Flats (Photos)

JOANNA MAZEWSKI

Forget pregnant in heels, these mamas want to stay comfortable!

It seems like everyone from Jessica Simpson to Fergie and even Kim Kardashian is ditching their heels for a pair of comfortable flats or sandals, especially towards the end of their pregnancies. It looks like these mamas just want to let their toes breath for once, LOL!

Living in hot and humid weather myself, I wear sandals all-year round and while I was pregnant the last thing I wanted to do was put my feet in 4-inch heels. In fact, even if I wanted to I couldn't because my feet grew an extra size too and none of my shoes fit. I'm sure a lot of the ladies out there that went through the same problem know what I'm talking about. In fact, during my last pregnancy I had a few pair of Aetrex shoes which were the BEST shoes ever because they didn't give me any aches or pains and I wore them each time I was out and about (the Angelina (yes, think Angelina Jolie) was perfect for me. During my first pregnancy I wore Crocs (which was about 5 years ago) and well, that was just a fashionable mistake I'd like to forget about, LOL.

Check out our photo gallery of some of our favorite celebrity mamas-to-be kickin' it with flip-flops while out and about and in town. Tell us, do you prefer to walk in heels while pregnant or take the more comfortable (and sometimes sensible) approach to pregnancy footwear?

Hilaria Thomas

Hilaria keeps her toes comfy in flip flops, too!

Kim Kardashian

This are perhaps the cutest sandals I've ever seen Kim Kardashian wear.

Cacee Cobb

Halle Berry

Halle might be one of the most beautiful women in the world, but she also like to keep it casual when she can, too!

Jenna Dewan

Jenna keeps comfortable in her sneakers while she's out and about with her dogs.
